

Teaching Assistant Professor of Agricultural Economics & Agribusiness

Type of Position: Faculty - Non-Tenure

Department: Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness

Department's Website: <https://agribusiness.uark.edu/>

Summary of Position:

The Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences invites applications for a non-tenure track Teaching Assistant Professor in the Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness.

Although the position is a non-tenure appointment, it is eligible for rank promotion to Associate and Full similar to a tenure-track appointment. This position carries a 9-month appointment with the opportunity to teach courses during the summer for additional compensation.

Summary of Duties:

The Teaching Assistant Professor position will have a maximum 24 credit teaching load each academic year (four courses per semester), with a mix of face-to-face and online courses, as needed. Possible teaching assignments for this position include Principles of Microeconomics, Principles of Macroeconomics, Introduction to Agribusiness, Farm Financial Records, Farm Business Management, and Agribusiness Marketing and Management at the undergraduate level. The specific teaching assignment will be determined based on the experience and interests of the successful candidate and the department's needs. In addition to teaching, the Teaching Assistant Professor position will carry a service appointment, including service assignments such as undergraduate program curriculum committee membership, student advising, and club sponsorship.

Compensation: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Qualifications:

Minimum:

- Doctorate in Agricultural Economics, Applied Economics, Public Policy, or related field conferred by the start of employment.
- Demonstrated experience in or potential for teaching excellence within the discipline.

Preferred:

- Preference will be given to candidates with experience or an interest in face-to-face and online course delivery.
- Preference will be given to candidates with experience in service duties (e.g., undergraduate program management, advising student clubs, or other extracurricular activities).
