Global Learning in Agriculture: A multilevel collaboration for internationalization of curriculum

Daniel Foster, Kirby Barrick, Melanie Miller Foster, Andrew Thoron

#GLAG14

▸ First conference on Global Learning in Agriculture

▸ November 2014

▸ 56 attendees from 10 states representing 17 institutions

What is Global Learning?

"Global learning is a critical analysis of and an engagement with complex, interdependent global systems and legacies and their implications for people's lives and the earth's sustainability."

Association of American Colleges and Universities, 2010

#GLAG14

‣ Core Values

‣ Purposeful, meaningful global learning can occur on and off campus

‣ K-20 participation to ensure maximum student growth on the global learning continuum

Why K-20?

"Global learning cannot be achieved in a single course or a single experience, but is acquired cumulatively…"

Association of American Colleges and Universities, 2010

Learning Outcomes

▸ Pre-conference:

1. Financing global experiences

2. Risk management

3. Communicating core values

Learning Outcomes

▶ Pre-conference Continued:

4. Creating co-curricular global learning opportunities

5. New partnerships

6. Lessons learned in conducting international experiences

Learning Outcomes

- Conference:
  1. Individual assessment of global competency

  2. Frameworks for internationalizing instruction

  3. Instructional materials

Learning Outcomes

- Conference Continued:

  - 4. Engaging in innovation

  - 5. Exploring additional resources

Partnerships and Funding

- Harbaugh Faculty Scholars Endowment

- Center for Professional Personnel Development, Penn State

- Association of Public and Land Grant Universities Innovation in Teaching Award

- Strategic Initiatives Fund, Department of Agricultural Economics, Sociology and Education, Penn State

- Department of Agricultural Education and Communication, University of Florida

Future Plans

Save the Date

#GLAG16
Online event:

January 8, 2016

1-5 PM