

Crossing International and Disciplinary Borders in Graduate Education

Melanie Miller Foster, Thomas Gill,
Daniel Foster

Penn State University

International Agriculture and Development

- “INTAD”
- Graduate dual-title degree program
- Earn two graduate degrees simultaneously
- Masters and Ph.D.
- Must enroll in primary program

Participating Programs

- Entomology
- Rural Sociology
- Ag Economics
- Agricultural and Extension Education
- Plant Pathology

INTAD Seminar

- Helps to prepare future faculty to fulfill the land grant mission in a global setting
  - Teaching
  - Research
  - Extension

Embedded Course

- International experience
- Creates a shared experience among students
- Information from trip essential for proposal

International Experience

- Dominican Republic pre-selected destination
- Students planned itinerary
- Shared responsibilities of co-chaperone on trip
- Conducted reflection sessions

Developing Global Competency

- Knowledge
- Skills
- Dispositions

Additional Goals

- Develop future faculty with confidence and efficacy to:
  - Conduct international research and extension projects
  - Lead future students to develop global competency

Funding

- This project is funded in part by a Higher Education Challenge Grant.

