

Not Just Another Webinar:

Innovation in professional development

Daniel Foster
Melanie Miller Foster
Penn State University

Global Learning in Agriculture (GLAG)

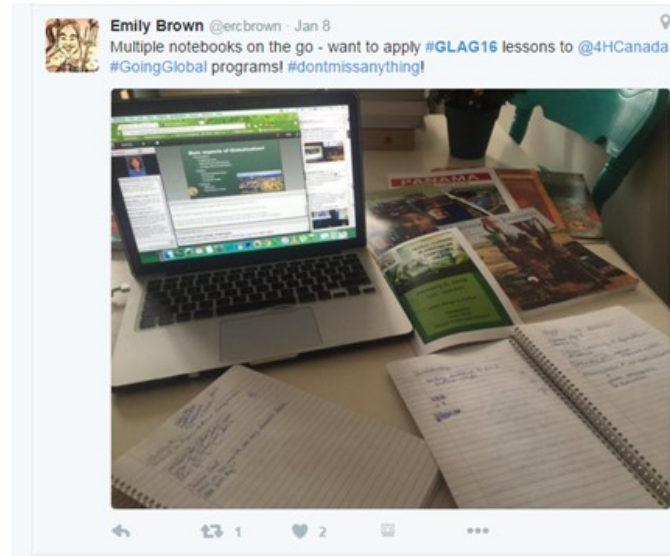

- #GLAG14: face-to-face
- How to continue the momentum?

#GLAG16

- Moved to online environment
- Time, scheduling
- Financial resources

FOUR Lessons

1. Preparation
2. Communication
3. Keep It Real
4. Engage Expertise

Lesson 1: Preparation

28 different layouts!

Global Learning in Agriculture Conference (Waiting Room) - Adobe Connect

Meeting Layouts Pods Audio

Primary Chat Box (Everyone)

Gaspari Cordova: thanks

Blaze Currie: Thanks everyone!

bshehu@huskers@unLedu: You did a great job, Gaspari!

Susan Seal: Thanks to the coordinators, presenters and participants. Great job everyone.

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: Gaspari, it worked out just fine. We could see your slides and advanced them for you. Well done!

Ann K Dunkerton: Thank you for a very interesting conference; well done!

Renee Pardello: Want to be part of US Extensions global network? Email gnetwork@umn.edu to complete the network survey, access data & join the Community of Practice to Internationalize Extension.

Karen Cannon: Such a great job everyone!! Great information and I loved the enthusiasm of ALL the presenters and participants!

Baleshka Brenes: This was an awesome experience!THANK YOU

Renee Pardello: Thanks so much!!

Shelley M. Armour: Amen Dr Foster :)

Bianca: Thanks to all the presenters!

Blaze Currie: Preach!

bshehu@huskers@unLedu: Excellent presentations!

Sarah Elizabeth Miller: lovin that penn state tie dr.foster!

Stephanie: This was absolutely amazing. Thank you so much for hosting this.

Shelley M. Armour: I never thought of the lesson idea of "how to get a passport"

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: <https://meeting.psu.edu/glagparty/>

Patricia Jepson: Creative format and great content!

Rachel Elizabeth Spicher: Great conference and resources!

GLOBAL LEARNING IN AGRICULTURE CONFERENCE

Welcome! Don't forget about the back-channel conversation on Twitter at #GLAG16! Here is an abbreviated schedule for today (All times in EST):

- 1:00pm Welcome
- 1:15pm Session 1
- 2:20pm Conference Break #1
- 2:30pm Vendor Lightening Talks
- 2:45pm Keynote!
- 3:30pm Conference Break #2
- 3:40pm Session 2
- 4:50pm Closing Challenge
- 5:10pm Conference "After-Party!"

Adobe Connect Audio Instructions

- There is music currently playing in the background. If you are having trouble hearing it, be certain that the speaker icon near the top of your screen is green. If not, try clicking on it.
- If you still do not have audio, click on the Meeting menu and then the Audio Setup Wizard. Follow the prompts.

If you have technology challenges:
AgCompSupport@psu.edu (subject: GLAG16); Call: 814-865-1229

Attendee List (1)

Active Speakers

Hosts (1)
Daniel Douglas Foster

Presenters (0)

Participants (0)

GLAG W...
PSU Global Teach
After Party!
Peace Corp Them

Daniel ...

Keynote WebLinks

- National Center for Education Statistics
- Peace Corps - Uganda
- Peace Corps - Thailand
- Peace Corps - World Wise Schools
- Asia Society - Global Competence
- ASCD - Leading for Global Competence
- Peace Corps YouTube - International Week
- Peace Corps YouTube - World Food Day
- Peace Corps Agriculture Resources

Waiting Room Music - Sidewalk S...

0:00:58 / 0:15:14

Lesson 2: Communication

SOCIAL MEDIA

Ain't no party like an after party

GLAG16 After Party (Chat) - Adobe Connect

Meeting Layouts Pods Audio

Attendee List (1)

Active Speakers

Hosts (1)

Daniel Douglas Foster

Presenters (0)

Participants (0)

Party Information

After Party Guide

Global Teach Ag! Initiative

Conference/Party Evaluation

Browse To

Party Questions? Type them here! ...

bshehu@huskers@unl.edu: Think this presentation was recorded

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: He's like Vanna, he changes outfits between scenes

Paige Caroline Castellanos: I know that map!

Karen Cannon: Melanie - ha! Love it!

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: f you hover over the pod menu, you have the option to maximize the pod you are chatting in

Susan Seal: I agree with Shelley. :)

Shelley M. Armour: Can we get a list of emails of participants?

Shelley M. Armour: Are you going to let us know when the Belize Ag Ed trip is ;-)

1. Peace Corps and Agriculture (Everyone)

Rachel Brown: I've known dozens of RPCVs who went on to grad school and were much more successful than their classmates b/c they had the field experience to go with the classes - also many schools consider PC services to make you a more competitive applicant for grad school

Olivia Murphy-Sweet: Awesome thanks for the email Carolyn! I will send you one soon!

Caitlin Haugen: Definitely look into the Master's International program. You do MA work, then PC. I have never heard anyone say it is distracting.

Rachel Brown: Olivia - I think it totally depends on your style. Most of my friends did the Fellows program but that was b/c they weren't ready to jump into academia quite yet and/or weren't sure what they wanted to study. I've known others who knew exactly what they wanted to do so felt the MI program was better for them b/c it gave them focus Caitlin Haugen: @Blaze: So true re: PC and grad school. I studied international ed, and many of my classmates were RPCVs. It was like coming home, but better. :)

Rachel Brown: Hey Juan - when you said you're an alum, what program are you an alum of?

Caitlin Haugen: @Rachel. Great points. @Olivia...talk to others and see what works best for you.

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: Heads up, drawing coming up!

Juan de Dios Moguel: Hi Rachel alumiof the high school that was founded by a Peace Corp

Rachel Brown: Juan - ah, gotcha! Are you in contact with any PC staff on the ground there?

Juan de Dios Moguel: well currently they r focusing in health area

2. Global Learning in Domestic Settings (Everyone)

Kayla Hack: @Paige, this is not necessarily immersive, but it is a unique way to engage students in the classroom: (granted this is coming from an ESL Education perspective) is by using the Translanguaging guide, from CUNY available here: <http://www.nysieb.ws.gc.cuny.edu/files/2012/06/FINAL-Translanguaging-Guide-With-Cover-1.pdf>

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: Thanks for your participation!

Caitlin Haugen: @Paige: I once took my students from UMD on a "local" walking tour of a diverse neighborhood, walking distance from campus. It made a huge impression on them.

Kayla Hack: SOME of the resources share about making the students experts, or other families and leaders in your community

Patricia Jepsen: Thank you!

Shelley M. Armour: One thing I didn't get to say about VIF International Education is there are two versions of their website- a free version and a paid version. The free version gives you access to everything for 30days and then just blogs, community, webinars, etc (basically not the Resource Lib or Badges). You can download lots of stuff before the 30d are up though. The paid version has the extra PD and badging. Both are at www.viflearn.com

Paige Caroline Castellanos: Thanks Caitlin, great idea. Sometimes hard being in Central PA, need to look further than the Penn State campus. :)

Caitlin Haugen: @Paige: <http://www.globalteachereducation.org/blog/views-and-voices>

Shelley M. Armour: My email is agnerd80@yahoo.com or sarmour@ecps.us

Caitlin Haugen: OOO. Who will win??

3. International Immersion Experiences (Everyone)

Melanie Joy Miller Foster: Heads up, drawing coming up!

Cassidy Rianne Cheddar: Emily, I thing it was the fact that I HAD to learn. I had taken Spanish classes for years before, but if I didn't speak Spanish, I couldn't really do anything!

Darlene Locke: Thanks Jeff, I know you guys were contributors to the conference, but missed the link!

Paige Caroline Castellanos: (and Cassidy did an awesome job in country too!)

Kirk Astroth: Jeff--look forward to working with you and being there in March

Cynthia Reece: It has been a wonderful opportunity to be part of this conference. We would love to work with anyone who is interested in Belize as a learning location.

Emily Urban 2: Cassidy, yes I can understand that. How did you feel about the length of the program? (in terms of language learning?)

Jeff Garrison: Kirk looking forward to getting you down to CR.

Ketja Lingenfelter: thanks all!

Cassidy Rianne Cheddar: It was perfect being my first time out of the country. Though I do wish I could've ststayed longer!

Darlene Locke: Great stuff!

4. Global Agricultural Education (Everyone)

Nur Husna Binti Abd Wahid 2: it is part of being a developing country, the Gov wanted enough teachers in schools especially rural schools

bshehu@huskers@unl.edu: Thank you guys for sharin

Sarah Elizabeth Miller: Sarah, I see that as a great learning experience, but maybe not just preservice teachers, if you include past teachers and current teachers you get to see how the programs ahve changed and possibly have them spit ball ideas.

Ben: awesome vince.... we will be in touch...

Stephen Edwards: Daniel, I'm willing to help with the Belize Professional Development, let me know what you come up with Sarah LaRose: Sarah - I like it! PS great middle name...mine is the same!

Juan de Dios Moguel: yes here is my email address for any help I can render here in Belize jdqm2@hotmail.com fliberto: Stephen, let's keep in touch and let us get it going

Nur Husna Binti Abd Wahid 2: Thanks!!

Dana Wise: email: dana_wise@tamu.edu or twitter: danamwise

Roshan Kumar Nayak: my contact is rkn112@psu.edu

Static

Intro

Chat

Drawing

Everyone

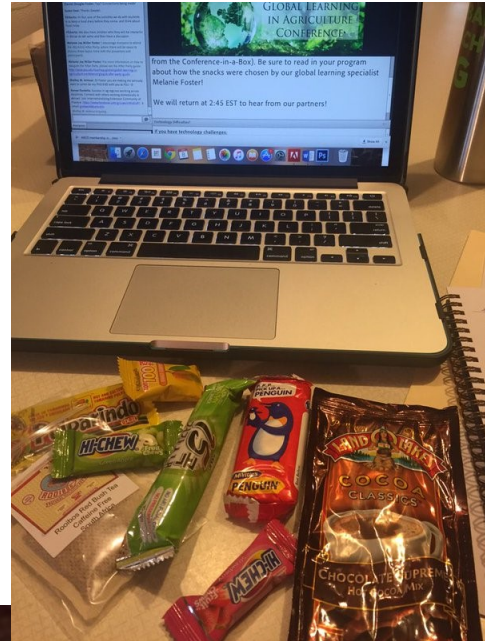

Lesson 3: Keep it real

Lesson 4: Engage Experts

No Mo'!

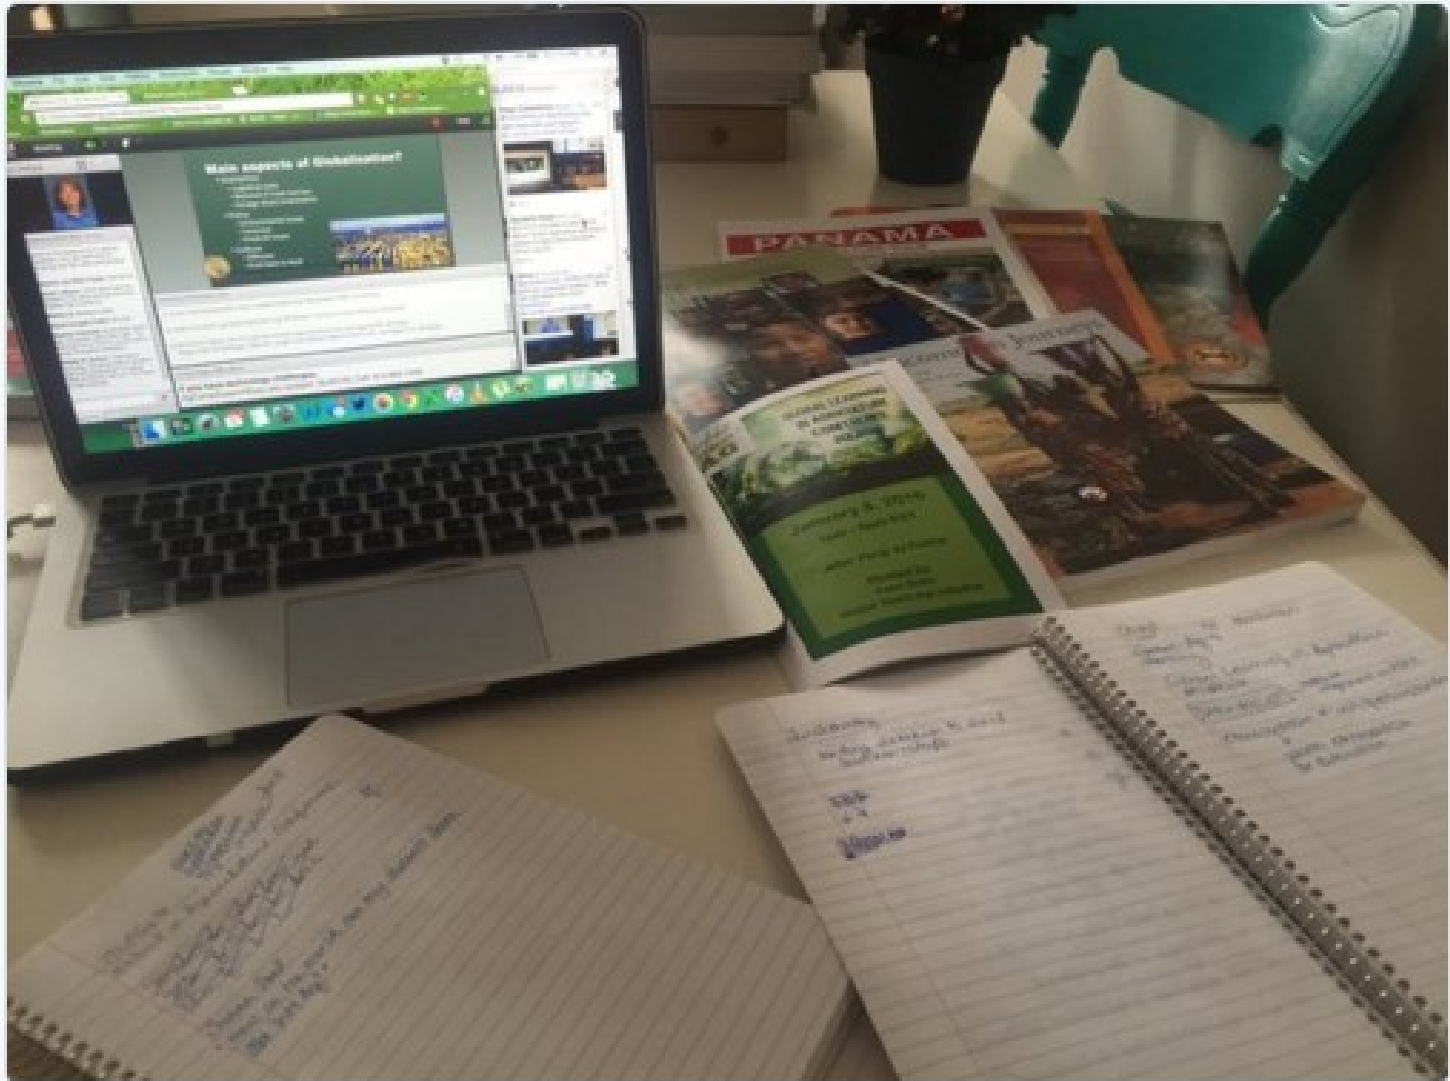

FOMO!

Emily Brown @ercbrown · Jan 8

Multiple notebooks on the go - want to apply #GLAG16 lessons to @4HCanada #GoingGlobal programs! #dontmissanything!

1

2

